We make healthy & delicious food that students love

We started back in 2006 with a mission to build lifelong healthy eaters by making kid-inspired, chef-crafted food accessible to all. Today, we design, source, produce and deliver 2 million school and community meals per week nationwide. Our meals are always:

Designed with Kids. We engage students at every step of the development process to ensure we create the food they love.

Created by Chefs. Our chefs craft culturally and regionally relevant menus to deliver great-tasting meals that broaden kids' palates.

Nutritionally Balanced. We thoughtfully craft well-balanced meals that exceed nutrition guidelines to ensure the highest level of nutrition.

Made with High-Quality Ingredients. We partner with a variety of local, regional and national vendors to source high-quality ingredients that meet our clean label standards.

Your family's health & wellness is our top priority

We work closely with your school and community organizations to ensure we are following the latest guidance from agencies regarding COVID-19 in both the production and distribution of our meals. Learn more about our safety protocols here and download our multilingual take-home meal guide for instructions on how to store and heat our meals at home.

Please refer to your school or community organization's website or other communications material to learn about their specific pick-up site locations and times.

Download our punny posters here for a fun way to remind your kids to follow safety tips!

We want to hear from your student!

We are committed to creating healthy food that kids love, which is why we have surveyed over 2,000+ students across the nation each month throughout the past two school years. It is important that we continue to collect feedback on our meals so our chef team can utilize these insights to inform our menu development and increase student satisfaction.

Please complete the following short survey each time your child enjoys a Revolution Foods meal. Our chefs greatly appreciate their feedback!
